THE NEWCOMER FAMILIES OF PENNSYLVANIA

by

Manley W. Mallett

INTRODUCTION

The immigrant progenitors of nearly every Newcomer family in the United States arrived at Philadelhia, PA. In my 1982 book, "All those Newcomer Families of Maryland", I reported that the earliest Newcomers listed were Hance (1718) and Peter (1719) in Lancaster County. Both were in Conestoga Twp. in 1734-25. Peter left a will dated 29 Jan. 1732 in which he leaves his lands to "my middle son Wolfgang". At that point the inventory of Komets, New Komets, Neukomets, Newcomers ect. included children, if any, of Hance, an older and younger brother of Wolfgang and probably sisters. Wolfgang would have to be of age and born in or before 1710 since he was not identified as a minor in the will.

Wolfgang's three sons moved to Washington County, MD to raise their families. Hence, Newcomers with Maryland ancestry are likely to be descendants of Wolfgang.

On 21 Sept. 1742, a Christian Newcomer and Christian Jr. arrived from Rotterdam on the Ship Francis and Elizabeth. On 1 Oct. 1754, Ulrich Neycob (Newcomer) and a Christian Neycomer arrived on the Ship Phoenix (Ref. 1). Researchers of Newcomer usually try to trace their ancestry to Wolfgang or Ulrich although the several Christian Newcomers were probably equally prolific.

Recently, Virginia N. Lane published an excellent article "Early Newcomers of Lancaster County" (Ref. 2).This presents up to five generations of these Pennsylvania immigrants. Therefore, the following account will largely be concerned with the family lines of Ulrich Newcomer and his sons in York County and later in Fayette County, PA down to 1850. Also, the 1850 Federal Census records will be given for all Newcomers (all spellings) in Pennsylvania.

ULRICH NEWCOMER

In 1754, a number of German-speaking Anabaptists emigrated to America from the district of Erquel in the canton of Bern, Switzerland. Their ancestors had originally fled from the old German part of Bern where the Anabaptists were being persecuted. They were required to pay an emigration tax, but most were poor and could pay little or no tax money. Apparently they were encouraged to emigrate by propaganda of emigration agents and would have to pay off their passage fare after reaching America. On the list paying tax was Ulrich Neukommet (Neukomm). He was from the mountains near Corgemont. Also listed was Christen Neukommet of nearby Cormoret. (Ref. 3)

Legend has it that Ulrich's first wife (name unknown) died on the ship coming to America, leaving Ulrich with his first born, the infant, Anna. It is also said that his second wife, Magdalena Baumgartner, also was on the Phoenix. This might be questioned since her first child was born in 1762, eight years after the passage.

Our Newcomer Family 1730-1988 by Mary L. Main

Ohio, PA IGI's and other

A BRIEF SKETCH OF THE NEWCOMER FAMILY AS FOUND BY SEARCHING PAST RECORDS.

Ulrich Newcomer was born in Switzerlan about 1730. He was married there and came to this country in 1754. Landing in Philadelphia on Oct. 1st on the ship Phoenix. He left Switzerland with his wife and daughter Anna, who accompana married couple. These people lost their money and were sold in bondage, after arriving and eventually Ulrich and others raised the money and bought their release. Ulrich then later married Magdalena and they had the following children; Christian (who was our great grandfather) Abraham, Jacob, John, Mary, and Elizabeth.

Mary married David Witmer and went to Virginia to live, Elizabeth m. John Freed, Jacob, Abraham and John moved to Fayette Co., PA and were farmers there. John finally sold out and went to Toledo, IA.

Christian who was the son of Ulrich, and our great grandfather was born in 1764. He married a woman whose first name was Anna, but her maiden name could not be Ascertained. To this union was born six children, whose names were respectfully: Jacob, Samuel, Barbara, Elizabeth, Abraham and Christian, (these names are those which appear in the Will of our great grandfather).

On the same boat with Ulrich was a Christian Newcomer who was probally, Ulrich's brother.

There was a Christian Newcomer who landed Nov. 3, 1750. There is a record also of a Christian Sr. and a Christian Jr. who landed in 1742, also a Johannes who landed in 1728. All were from Switzerland and all landed at Philadelphia. Ther are so many Christian, Jacobs, Abrahams, ect. that it is hard to seperate them.

Of the children of the Will it is found that Jacob married Elizabeth Lehman and Abraham married Catherine Wolfe.

Christian (our grandfather) and Abraham who were sons of Christian, the son of Ulrich, married sisters who were Wolfe girls, Christian who is our grandfather married Mary.

The Newcomers were formally Germans who went into Switzerland ages ago and finally left there on account of religious troubles. They were Anabaptists, a sect of the Mennonites.

In Switzerland the name, Newcomer was Neukom. When they got here an English clerk wrote the name Neukomet. It was not until the third generation that it was spelled Newcomer, in the signature altho it was always called Newcomer in this country.

Cordelia Newcomer

The last mentioned couple removed to Ross county, Ohio, early in the nineteenth century, and there on January 11, 1819, was born their son, John J. Moffit, who subsequently became an early settler of Hancock county. The latter's daughter, Alice, was born October 13, 1852, married Thomas McClure May 8, 1873, and Mrs. Katie M. Stevenson was their only child.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Stevenson have had five children: Wilmer M., Alice B., Edith, Thelma and one who died in infancy.

LEVI B. NEWCOMER.

Every man to his trade. The city bred man says "The best farm in Chistendom could not tempt me to be a farmer. The fact is that it approaches the occupation of a gambler. He sows his seed in the spring to see it promise abundant yield only to watch its destruction by the ruthless storm. On the other hand he enters June with a despairing cry of 'no crop,' and passes out of July with the exultant whoop of '80 bushels, if an ear.'" Then the city man goes down town and buys a block of stock upon which he has not the slightest idea whether he will make or lose. Such is life, and, as said before, every man to his trade.

The gentleman's name which initiates this paragraph is a man who has "stuck to his trade," that of farming. He has lived to see his efforts in that line crowned with success. He lives on a farm in Big Lick township, which he devotes to general farming. He was born in Stark county, Ohio, July 14, 1843, and is the son of Adam and Margaret (Bender) Newcomer. His parents were both natives of Columbiana county, Ohio, and came to Hancock county in 1852, after their marriage, where they settled in Big Lick township. They purchased a quarter section of land, partially improved. Subsequently they prospered and added eighty acres to this original farm. In connection with his agricultural interests Adam Newcomer operated quite extensively in lumber, having a saw mill in those early days. He was a good farmer, a loyal citizen and a man of usefulness in his community. His religious preferences induced him to join the Dunkards, in which body he was highly respected for his integrity and soundness of faith. He was the father of sixteen children, four of the eight now living residing in Hancock county. This family of children were reared in the fear and admonition of the Lord, and became useful members of latter day society. The father died January 21, 1897, his wife having preceded him by eleven years.

Levi B. Newcomer was but a lad eight years old when he removed to Hancock county. He continued to reside with his parents until fully grown, becoming familiar with the fields and meadows and assisting in the work of the home farm as he grew up. During this time he received a limited education in the country schools, and upon arriving at maturity was given eighty acres of timber land by his father, upon which he took up his residence. After clearing twenty-five acres of this property he sold it and bought another eighty in a higher state of cultivation. He continued to improve this land, and in 1868 bought the farm which he now operates. Here he has erected first-class buildings of modern construction, and of commodious size. His dwelling house is a substantial brick structure of thirteen rooms, including halls. Mr. Newcomer also has a holding of real estate in the city of Findlay. In 1863 he wooed and won the heart and hand of Miss Mollie Thomas, who has presented him with eight children: Maggie, Henry, Clint, Francis Diana, Jess, Louis and Sadie. Mrs. Newcomer died in February, 1901, and on the 9th of March, 1902, Mr. Newcomer was united in wedlock to Mary Keller. Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer are worthy members of the Dunkard church, in which he has been a deacon for thirty-five years. During his residence in Hancock county he has ever held himself ready to engage in the activities of his district. He has served on the school board for ten years and filled other township offices acceptably. He has the reputation of being one of the best farmers in the county, and has the confidence and esteem of his neighbors.

EDGAR WILCOX.

As far back as history records, the real strength of the nations of the past has depended not on the armed might of the warrior class nor on the subtlety and dominion of the rulers, but on those who have, figuratively speaking, been at the bottom of the great pyramid of civilization, those who have tilled the soil, sown the grain and reaped the harvests, by their communion with the forces of nature imbibing a power irresistible when used in the mighty conflicts for the betterment of the social and moral condition of mankind. And today the index of the true character and strength of our country is to be found not from inspection of the cities, the gathering places for the rich and the rabble, but in the vast stretches covered by the prosperous and highly cultivated farms, where men grow up to develop the best and highest traits of character. And in that excellent agricultural region of Hancock county, Ohio, one of the successful and highly regarded farmers is Edgar Wilcox, a brief review of whose life deserves a place in this history.

His parents were Martin and Charlotte Wilcox, the former a native of

Mr. Hatfield came to Wood county to reside in 1836, locating upon his little forty-acre tract, where he built a log house, and followed farming, working as opportunity came at his trade, this business sometimes taking him as far west as Fort Wayne. As he would get money to spare, he would go on foot through the woods to the land office and buy land, at $1.25 per acre, and in this way he added to his holdings until he owned at one time 1,000 acres, and he now owns nearly 700. Honor and fairness have characterized his every transaction, no matter how small, and his integrity is never questioned. His landed estate forms but a part of his possessions, as he owns fine business property in Fostoria and North Baltimore. It is not often that a poor boy attains such worldly success, and still less frequently do we see nobility of character and goodness of heart left untouched by the long struggle with worldly necessities.

In politics Mr. Hatfield is a Democrat, as was his father before him, and although he never aspired to political office, his ability, public spirit and popularity among all classes has made him a leader in the party in this region. Quite without effort on his part, he was elected to the Legislature in in 1874, and the entire community took part in a grand barbecue at his home in honor of the joyous occasion. The celebration was of the genuine old-fashioned kind, with food in unlimited quantities, speech-making, bands of music, dancing, and games and diversions of all sorts; but the best part of the affair was the sincere and unaffected rejoicing of all over the elevation of their honored neighbor.

WILLIAM WAUGH, senior member of the well-known mercantile firm of William Waugh & Co., of Tontogany, is a native of Wood county, having been born in Webster township, June 28, 1858.

His parents, James and Margaret (Forester) Waugh, were both born in Scotland in 1824, the father in January, the mother April 19, and in childhood they came to America, their respective families locating in the same neighborhood in Wood county. The first years of their married life were spent in Freedom township, near Pemberville; but in 1850 they removed to a farm on the corner of Webster township, where our subject's father built a large sawmill, which he operated successfully for many years. He was a Republican in his later years, and was one of the leading men of the locality. He and his wife were active and faithful members of the Presbyterian Church at Scotch Ridge, and their children adhere to the same faith. His early death, in 1892, cut short a life of great activity and usefulness. Mrs. Waugh survived him many years, dying August 15, 1891. Nine children were born to them, of whom five lived to adult age: Ellen, deceased, was formerly the wife of B. Russell; and Margaret (who married C. W. Russell), James and Thomas, are all living on the old homestead; and our subject, who is the youngest in the family.

William Waugh, during his boyhood, attended the district school near his home, also the graded schools of Portage. He then taught for ten winters with great success. On March 18, 1879 he married Miss Maggie Dauterman, who was born October 2, 1860, in Portage township, Wood county, where her parents, Jacob and Catherine (Ames) Dauterman, were prominent residents. Three children were born to this union: Mabel I., born November 16, 1881; Ralph D., born October 16, 1884; and Harold W., born January 1, 1893, in Denver, Colo. Mr. Waugh bought the old Dauterman homestead, and until 1885 was engaged in farming in summer, and teaching in winter. He taught, in all, ten winters, three winters in his own district. Thinking, however, that a mercantile life would be more congenial, he, in 1885, opened a general store at Dunbridge but sold it in the fall of 1889, and went into the grocery business at Bowling Green. His health failing, he again sold out and spent two years in the West, chiefly for his health, and on his return built a business block in Tontogany, and established his present general store, which, since June 30, 1894, has been a leading enterprise in that thriving town. Politically Mr. Waugh is a Republican, but is no office seeker, though he is the present efficient township treasurer. In 1887, he united with the I. O. O. F., Lodge No. 626, Bowling Green, and in 1894 was transferred to Tontogany Lodge No. 755. He is somewhat interested in the oil industry in Wood county, being among the first to develop the field about Tontogany.

LEWIS NEWCOMER, one of Prairie Depot's substantial business men, was born near Freedburg, Stark Co., Ohio, March 26, 1846, and is the son of Adam and Margaret (Bender) Newcomer, both of whom were from Pennsylvania.

Our subject attended school until seventeen years of age, when, work being plenty on his father's farm, he was employed there until he was twenty-four years old. On November 12, 1868 he was married to [illegible], a daughter of Jesse Boucher, and a native of Seneca county, where she was born January 22, 1843.

and where she taught six terms in the public schools. In 1870 Mr. Newcomer moved to Montgomery township, and, with his brother, Levi, bought 125 acres of land in Section 18. He lived in this township four years, and then rented a farm in Hancock county for one year, and later occupied another farm of 120 acres that he had previously bought, remaining there three years. Then, as the parties to whom he had sold his farm in Montgomery township could not pay for it, he returned to Section 18, and lived there until October, 1887, when he moved to Prairie Depot, broken down in health and obliged to quit farming. In June, 1888, he engaged in the hardware business with S. J. Dern, and after two years this firm sold out to the Buckeye Supply Co., and for the following eighteen months our subject retired. In January, 1892, he bought out the Buckeye Supply Co., which is now known by the firm name of L. Newcomer & Co. Our subject owns the business block in which his store is situated, and besides has some of the best business property in Prairie Depot.

To Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer have been born these children: Irwin B., who is in business with his father, married Miss Maud Pittenger, and they have one child, Fern. Bertha L. is now Mrs. John Carr, of Bradner, Ohio, and has two children, Lewis R. and Clair. Mr. Newcomer is a Democrat, but is not bound by party ties, as he selects the man according to his ability, regardless of his politics. Our subject and his family were for fifteen years members of the German Baptist Church, and gave liberally to its cause, and Mr. Newcomer gave an acre of ground toward a site for a new church in Hancock county. For the past fourteen years he has been an invalid, suffering from rheumatism, which necessitated his going into mercantile business. He has a comfortable competency, and is one of Prairie Depot's most respected citizens. His good wife has been of great help to him, and has stood nobly by him in his hours of trial.

Adam Newcomer, father of our subject, was born in Pennsylvania, and, in 1851, moved to Biglick township, Hancock county, making the journey in a farm wagon. He was in poor circumstances financially, and took his farm of 160 acres when it was in a pretty rough condition, uncultivated and containing only a log cabin. It was there that Mrs. Newcomer died at the age of sixty years. Mr. Newcomer is alive and hearty at nearly seventy-five years of age. He has been a successful man, and has a good competency. To him and his wife were born the following children: Levi, living in Hancock county; Diana, now Mrs. Samuel Thomas, of Hancock county; Lewis, our subject; Sylvanus, a resident of Michigan; Lydia, the wife of Henry Bowers, of Findlay; Samuel, residing in Hancock county; Margetta, wife of William Shubert, of Hancock county; and John, of Kansas City.

JERRY BORDNER was born in Stark county, Ohio, June 26, 1835, and is a son of Jacob and Liddy (Guess) Bordner, the former a native of Harrisburg, Penn., the latter of Stark county, Ohio, where they were married. Subsequently they removed to Crawford county, in the same State, and, about 1850, located on a farm of 125 acres in Liberty township, Wood county. There the mother's death occurred, and the father afterward was again married, his second union being with Catherine Shutt, who still lives in Liberty township. His death occurred on the old homestead farm in May, 1879. To Mr. Bordner's first marriage were born the following children: Lavina; Washington, who died in childhood; Jerry; Catherine, who died at the age of seventeen; and Hiram. The children of the second marriage, were: Joseph, a farmer of Liberty township; Isaac, who follows farming in Henry county, Ohio; John, of Freeport, Ohio; Frank, of Portage, Ohio; and Hettie, who died in childhood.

Jerry Bordner, the subject of this review, was educated in the public schools of his locality. He was reared on a farm, but to some extent has followed carpentering. During the Civil war the country numbered him among its loyal defenders, having enlisted at Bowling Green, August 20, 1861, in Company C, 21st O. V. I. He participated in the battles of Ivy Mountain and Chickamaugua, in which latter engagement out of his company of forty-eight men, who went into battle in the morning, only thirteen responded to roll-call at night, and a corporal of that company was the only one of the officers (either commissioned or non-commissioned), of the regiment that escaped uninjured; but at the battle of Jonesboro, this corporal was literally cut to pieces by a shell. At the battle of Stone River our subject received a slight flesh wound in the right cheek, and in the spring of 1862, he returned home on a thirty-days' furlough. Rejoining his regiment at Huntsville, Ala., at the expiration of his term, he was honorably discharged September 18, 1864. He then began work on a farm, which he continued for some time.

Mr. Bordner was married in Liberty township, September [illegible], to Miss Phebe Heil, who was born in Summit county, Ohio, November 23, 1845. Her parents were Joel and Polly

Hello There!

Thank you, Thank you so much for the data you sent!!! That's one line I won't need to track now that you have already found it. Ha'Ha'

I have a few items I picked up along the way so I may have some of it. Didn't have time to check them yet.

I went on a 2 wks. "digging" trip and found so much data that I'm only 1/3 of the way through organizing it. So many letters to write and charting etc. to do. I found Harold's grt. grandmother Fisher. All we have had was her name, now we have at least 3 more generations. Her family is a large one that come from Miami, Wabash Co's Ind & Franklin & Floyd Co's Va. They migrated from Va to Preble Co Ohio to Ind. in 1830 - 1850's - It sure is rewarding to make such a find. Again thanks so much. We may send for the book - Sincerely Mrs Harold Neff

Dear Mr. Newcomer,

We finally got around to ordering a Newcomer book from Mary Main. We found that our branch stopped with Lora Thomas McKee (U25226) on page 19. I have printed out our chart starting with her. She is my maternal grandmother. If I counted right, your son Roger and I are seventh cousins and I am a sixth cousin of Mary Main.

There is a second printout starting with Clinton Newcomer (U25213) on page 11. His wife Sarah Belle was a sister of my grandfather Jacob McKee. Jacob is the one who married Lora Thomas. There is some additional data on this line that I had in my McKee history. My mother got her middle name from Belle. Until I received this book I thought her first name was Belle. I never heard her called anything but Belle.

Ralph Gottschall, my uncle, is a brother to Ilo Gottschall Schubert on page 18. He married Lora's daughter, Alpha.

My grandfather, John Henry Neff, is a step brother to Uriah R. Young the father of Dorothy Young Schubert on page 18. Carl and Dorothy grew up a few blocks apart in North Manchester across the street from Manchester College.

Sincerely,

Harold D. Neff

Roy and Pauline King

Ashley couple to celebrate 50 years of marriage Sunday

By DOTTIE DUNCAN

Roy and Pauline (Putt) King, Rural Route 2, Waterloo, will celebrate 50 years of marriage on Sunday, March 18.

An open house in their honor will be hosted by their children at the Cedar Lake Church of Christ, 1492 County Road 27. The Kings will receive guests from 2-4 p.m.

Roy and Pauline first met when they both attended Ashley High School. "But we didn't marry until three years after we were out of school," Mrs. King recalls. The couple traveled to Angola to the home of Rev. J.O. Rose for their wedding ceremony. The minister's son, a former high school teacher, and the minister's wife, were the only wedding guests. "Big weddings were not the thing, then," Mrs. King continued. "In fact, you seldom heard of any."

After their wedding, the Kings returned to the family farm, across the road from where they now live. The couple farmed the same land first purchased by Roy's grandfather in 1882. The land is still tilled by a King. After four generations, son Darrell is now the family farmer.

The Kings have three other children: David, Chicago; Dan, rural Waterloo; and Mrs. Larry (Jennie) Phillips, Fort Wayne. They also have eight grandchildren, who Mrs. King said they enjoy very much. "You bet we do. They like to come to the farm." The grandchildren range in age from from nine to 21.

Asked what decade of her married life she has found most rewarding, Mrs. King, enthusiastically endorsed retirement. "We retired in '77, and we've enjoyed ourselves. No worries. We worked hard on that farm. Now we travel a lot." Mrs. King said she and her husband had visited every state but Hawaii. "Last summer we were gone two months. I call it our 'rodeo' tour." She explained her husband is an avid rodeo fan. "I think we saw eight while we were gone."

The couple invite their friends to share in this special day of remembering on Sunday. They ask that gifts be omitted.

and Mrs. Lewis are members of the Methodist Episcopal church.

George W. Newcomer, section 29, Franklin Township, was born in Columbiana County, Ohio, April 15, 1845, a son of Christian Newcomer, a native of Pennsylvania and an early settler of Columbiana County. In 1847 his parents moved to De Kalb County, Ind., and settled on section 29, Franklin Township, where he was reared. At the time of their settlement in the county it was heavily timbered, and the trees had to be cut before a house could be built. A tree in front of their cabin was cut into shingles, and the stump was used as a table. They were in limited circumstances, but possessed a degree of ambition and energy which overcomes all obstacles and wins the victory over every battle in life, being undaunted by hardship, but seemingly strengthened with renewed vigor by each privation. Our subject was early inured to the life of a frontier farmer, and initiated into the mysteries of clearing and breaking land. His education consisted mainly of the rules of agriculture, as his services were required at home, and his attendance even at the early district school was limited to a few weeks in the winter. After reaching manhood he began life for himself, and by following the lessons of industry and application learned in his youth, has been successful and now owns eighty acres of valuable land. Mr. Newcomer is one of the representative men of the township, and has always contributed of his time and means for the advancement of every laudable enterprise. He was married Aug. 4, 1872, to Barbara Van Horn, daughter of John Van Horn, of Greenville, Mich. They have five children—Charles E., Mary M., Luna L., Arna O., and Elmer G. In religious faith Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer are Mennonites.

with the proceedings of his court. He is a member of the Presbyterian church, in which he is an elder, and also a devoted member of the Grand Army of the Republic, which he served as commander three full terms, filled out another term by appointment and is now commander of the post. His integrity of principle and purity of motive are unquestioned and being a man of splendid disposition he is consequently popular in all the circles in which he moves, and is eminently deserving of representation among the enterprising and progressive citizens of his community.

U2.6.10. GEORGE W. NEWCOMER.

Among the successful citizens of DeKalb county must be numbered him whose name appears at the head of this sketch. After a period of years, during which he indefatigably labored along agricultural lines, he was prospered to a gratifying degree and is now enabled to enjoy that rest which he so richly earned. He is a man of stanch and reliable make-up and has won and retains the highest regard of those who know him.

George W. Newcomer, one of the well known and popular citizens of Waterloo, was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, on the 15th day of April, 1845, and is a son of Christian and Mary (Wolfe) Newcomer. Christian Newcomer, who was born in Pennsylvania, came to Columbiana county, Ohio, among its very early settlers. In 1847 the subject's parents moved to DeKalb county, Indiana, settling on section 29, Franklin township, where the father entered eighty acres of government land at the regulation price of one dollar and a quarter an acre. At the time of their settlement not a stick of timber had been cut on the land and it was necessary to clear a spot before a cabin could be erected. A tree located on the site of the cabin was utilized for shingles, the stump of the same being converted into a table for family use. There they established their permanent home and reared their children, the father devoting his energies to the clearing of the land and the cultivation of the soil. Christian and Mary Newcomer were the parents of eleven children, of whom one died in infancy, ten grew to maturity, and five are still living. Of those who reached adult years the following mention may be made: Mrs. Nancy King lived in Waterloo until her death; Andrew died at the age of about twenty years; Peggy died in young womanhood, as did Kate; Barbara, who was the wife of Gabriel Miller, lived in different places in DeKalb county and is now deceased; Mrs. Mary Camp lives at Fairfield Center; Maria is the widow of Daniel Gingerich, and lives at Butler, this county; Joseph lives in Waterloo; George W. and Christian also live in Waterloo.

George W. Newcomer had but little opportunity for receiving a school education in his youth, but he did learn the practical duties of the farm and also imbibed those habits of industry and perseverance which were such important contributing elements to his subsequent success. He remained at home until his marriage in 1872, when he and his wife moved on to a tract of land which he owned. This land represented years of the most rigid economy and strenuous effort on his part. He first secured five acres in Franklin township from his earnings and from the profits derived from this land he bought ten acres more and then repeating the process he finally bought ten acres at a time until he eventually owned forty-five acres of land. He later bought five acres more from his father from which to get timber to build a barn. He worked many days for twenty-five cents a day and saved money. The young couple started on their matrimonial career with very little in the way of home comforts and no luxuries, but by pluck, energy and good management they prospered until eventually Mr. Newcomer became the owner of two hundred and forty acres of land. This tract is now divided into three parcels of eighty acres each, on each of which is one of his sons. He is selling the land to these sons and one has already paid for his tract. In April, 1901, Mr. Newcomer bought a comfortable and attractive home on the south edge of Uniontown on an eminence overlooking the valley of Cedar Creek across from Waterloo and there he now resides.

On April 4, 1872, Mr. Newcomer married Barbara Van Horn, who was born in Noble county, Indiana, the daughter of John and Annie (Rosenberger) Van Horn. Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn came from Chambersburg, Columbiana county, Ohio, to DeKalb county in the fall of 1853, driving through with teams to Noble county, this state. There they entered one hundred and sixty acres of land, none of which had been cleared, and erected a cabin, constructing the doors, bedsteads and utensils in the primitive manner customary in those days, the cooking being done by the fireplace and the illumination of the cabin being provided by the old-fashioned grease lamp. Mrs. Newcomer's mother died about 1885 in Rice county, Kansas, and her father died about eleven months later at Aetna, Newaygo county, Michigan. In Ohio John Van Horn had been employed in the coal mines at Chambersburg, but after coming to Indiana he devoted his entire attention to farming. He and his wife belonged to the Methodist church.

In Ohio he had been a member of the Free and Accepted Masons and was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, the membership being consistent from the fact that he was a soldier in the war of the Rebellion. Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn's respective mothers bore the maiden names of Elizabeth Hanselman and Elizabeth Hunsaker. Mrs. Newcomer was reared in Noble county, Indiana, until fourteen years of age, when she came to DeKalb county and lived with her uncle, George Van Horn, about three miles east of Waterloo, in Wilmington township, until her marriage. To Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer have been born six children, namely: Charles E., born May 12, 1873, married Effie Mann, of Franklin township, the daughter of Jehu and Elizabeth Mann. To them have been born five children, Marion, Harold, Howard, Grace and Gladys. Charles E. Newcomer has bought eighty acres of land from his father; Lona L. is at home with her parents; Mary M. first married Ed. McKague, by whom one child was born, Blanche Irene. After Mr. McKague's death she became the wife of John W. Brown, and they now live in Franklin township, this county; Arna O., born February 7, 1879, married Ora Hodges, and lives on eighty acres of his father's farm, half of which he has paid for. He is the father of two daughters, Gertrude and Mildred. Ora Hodges was the daughter of James and Lois (Holcomb) Hodges; Elmer G. Newcomer, born October 22, 1882, married Junia Schultz, of Franklin township, the daughter of Allen and Amanda (Mann) Schultz, and to Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer have been born three children, Esther, Arthur and Ralph. Elmer G. Newcomer is operating eighty acres of his father's farm with the view of purchasing the same; William L. Newcomer, born May 29, 1893, who married Mae Krum, daughter of Eugene and Della (Shultz) Krum, of Ashley, DeKalb county, on December 18, 1913, is assisting his brothers on the farm; Virgil and Vernon, twins, born July 29, 1885, are both deceased, one dying at birth, and the other at the age of five months.

Fraternally, Mr. Newcomer is a member of the Free and Accepted Masons, and he and his wife and daughter, Lona, are members of the Order of the Eastern Star. A well balanced mind, sound and practical intelligence and mature judgment are among Mr. Newcomer's prominent characteristics, to which may also be added a geniality and amiability of disposition which has won for him a large and loyal following among his acquaintances. Though now retired from active business pursuits, he still retains an intelligent interest in the welfare of the community and unreservedly gives his support to every movement for the educational, moral or material advancement of his fellow citizens.

Charles E. Newcomer. In the same Townshp where he was born and reared, Franklin Township, Charles E. Newcomer has spent his active life as a tiller of the soil, has gathered many crops through the consecutive seasons, and is directing a large and valuable farm in section 8, where he has his home and where his family of children are growing up around him.

Mr. Newcomer was born in Franklin Townshp May 12, 1873, a son of George and Barbara (Van Horn) Newcomer, the former a native of Columbiana County, Ohio, and the latter of Allen Township, Noble County, Ohio. George Newcomer came to DeKalb County with his parents, grew up here and after his marriage settled in section 29 of Franklin Township. Some years ago he and his good wife retired from the farm and are now living at Waterloo. He is a democrat and is a member of the Masonic Order. Of the seven children six are still living: Charles E.; Lona, unmarried; Mary M., widow of John Brown; Arnie, who occupies the old homestead; Elmer, also of Franklin Township; and William, of that Township.

Charles E. Newcomer spent his boyhood days alternately attending school and working in the fields and about the home. He married Effie Mann, a native of Franklin Township. They have a family of five children: Marion, born June 22, 1897; Harold, born January 16, 1900; Howard, born December 23, 1901; Grace, born October 25, 1903; and Gladys, born November 30, 1907. The four older children are all graduates of the common school and all are still in the home circle.

Mr. Newcomer is affiliated with Lodge No. 701, Free and Accepted Masons, Royal Arch Chapter No. 106, Council No. 83, Royal and Select Masters, and he and his wife are members of the Eastern Star Chapter. He is a past grand of the Odd Fellows and a member of the Grand Lodge and is a past chief patriarch of the Encampment. Mrs. Newcomer is a past grand of the Rebekahs. Politically Mr. Newcomer affiliates with the democratic party. He is a member of the Hamilton Grange. His farm in Franklin Township comprises 200 acres and he has it well equipped and well stocked with good grades.

Mrs. Newcomer was born in Franklin Township August 8, 1876, a daughter of Jahn and Elizabeth (Curry) Mann. Her father was born in Stark County, Ohio, in 1838, and came with his parents to Franklin Township in 1839. His wife was born in Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1840 and came to DeKalb County when a young lady. They were married March 24, 1864, then lived in Franklin Township one year, spent a year in Missouri, and after that lived in Franklin Township the rest of their days. Mr. Mann was a democrat in politics. There were two children: Almeda, deceased wife of Adam Hamman, and Effie E., Mrs. Newcomer.

Claude Kimmell is a prominent representative of a numerous family of that name in Noble County, and for a number of years has been successfully engaged in general farming and stock raising on a large place in Sparta Township.

He was born in York Township of the same county June 24, 1879, son of Orlando and Jane (White) Kimmell. Claude was the youngest in a rather large family. He grew up on the old farm, attended district schools. He also for two years attended Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Michigan, and then took a business course at Indianapolis, Indiana. He lived at home until his marriage.

In August, 1909, Miss Hannah Kiester became his wife. Mrs. Kimmell is a woman of thorough education and culture. She is a daughter of John and Barbara (Moore) Kiester. She was born and reared in Washington Township, attended the district schools there, is a graduate of the State Normal School and holds a life certificate as a teacher. She was a teacher both in the common and high schools before her marriage. They have two children: Anna May, born December 18, 1910, and Claude A., born August 14, 1917. In this large family of Kimmells in Noble County, Claude A. happens to be the only grandson bearing the name Kimmell.

Mr. Kimmell is farming on an extensive scale, and has a total of 640 acres under his control and management. He breeds and raises all kinds of livestock. He is a stockholder in the State Bank at Kimmell, is a republican, and a member of Albion Lodge No. 97, Free and Accepted Masons.

Ira L. Myers, proprietor of the Union Home Farm of 360 acres in Orange Township of Noble County, is a man of interesting characteristics and experience. He early trained himself for a career as a pharmacist, also studied medicine, but reasons of ill health brought him back to the farm where he was reared, and for a quarter of a century he has been one of the leading agriculturists of Noble County. Those familiar with Mr. Myers' operations say that his success is largely due to his good judgment and his willingness to take long chances, the same quality that makes successful business men as well as good farmers.

Mr. Myers was born in Orange Township, March 15, 1871, a son of Reuben D. and Sarah (Kiefer) Myers, the former a native of Summit County, Ohio, and the latter of Pennsylvania. Reuben Myers moved to Indiana when a young man and settled in Noble County, and his wife's people also came to the same locality. After their marriage they settled on a farm in Orange Township, where the father lived until his death in 1912. The mother is still living. The family were members of the United Brethren Church at Oak Grove. The father was affiliated with the Masonic Lodge at Rome City, and in politics was a democrat. Of four children, three are still living: Melissa, wife of Emanuel Myers, of Elkhart, Indiana; Frank E., of Orange Township; and Ira L.

Ira L. Myers spent his boyhood on the farm where he is now living, and acquired his early education at Rome City. He attended the high school there and entered the pharmacy department of Northwestern University of Chicago, graduating with the degree Ph. G. on February 25, 1890. In the fall of the same year he entered the medical department of Northwestern University and diligently pursued his studies for two years.

Then, as above noted, he left school and abandoned a professional career on account of ill health, and returning home engaged in farming. For several years he rented his father's place, and later began buying until he owns 360 acres. One of his main standbys as a farmer has been wheat, and he made money on that crop long before the era of high prices and Government regulation. He also keeps his farm well stocked and it represents a large investment and is a business handled with every degree of efficiency.

November 2, 1895, Mr. Myers married Lizzie Shaeffer. She was born in Orange Township, March 23, 1875, and graduated from the Wolcottville High School in 1892. Mrs. Myers is a member of the Evangelical Church at Wolcottville. They have one son, Victor L., born January 11, 1908, and now in

BRUCE DAVID JOHNSON born November 10, 1956 in Battle Creek, Michigan.

THE FAMILY OF KATHRYN ISABELL

According to the DeKalb County, Indiana records, Isabell was born on December 25, 1921. I wrote to Isabell three times and I got no answer so her aunt Grace helped me with this family as much as she could. Isabell is married and her married name is Ball. She lives at 146 Cliff Street, Battle Creek, Michigan, zip code 49017. According to Grace, Isabell has 5 children.

FLORENCE ENOLIS
(a child of Abraham Lincoln Evertts)

Florence Enolis Evertts was born in DeKalb County, Indiana according to her sister Grace. In the DeKalb County records of marriages, Florence was wed to William Brosius on December 29, 1915. Various family members say that after their marriage they lived in Garrettsville, Ohio and later she lived in Butler and he lived in Garrettsville; William was still living in 1930 according to the Evertts reunion book. I have been told that he died in Garrettsville, Ohio and he is also buried there. Florence died on February 4, 1968 at the age of 75 so that is why I earlier stated that she was born in 1892 or 1893. This is recorded in DeKalb County, Indiana. Florence is buried in the Butler Cemetary just east of the city in Indiana, according to relatives.

ROSA LEE
(a child of Abraham Lincoln Evertts)

Rosa Lee Everetts is thought to have been born on August 26, 1894 in DeKalb County, Indiana. She was married to Fred Carr on October 1, 1913 in DeKalb County, Indiana. Fred was born in Dekalb County, Indiana on, it is thought, June 10, 1881. Fred's father was Carma Carr and his mother was Anna Imhoff Carr. Fred and Rosa lived their married lives in the DeKalb County, Indiana area. Fred was a custom butcherer and a truck driver and a tenant farmer. He died on May 7, 1940 in Butler, Indiana and he is buried in the Big Run Cemetary in Eastern DeKalb County, Indiana.

Talmage was born in Elkhart, Indiana on October 18, 1895 to George Martin and Emma Troxel Martin. Talmage and Grace are members

Fraternally, Mr. Dilgard belongs to the Knights of Pythias and takes a deep interest in the workings of the order. He has taken an intelligent interest in public affairs and served four years as trustee of Grant township, and is now president of the board of trustees of the town of Waterloo, discharging his official duties to the entire satisfaction of his fellow citizens.

To Mr. and Mrs. Dilgard have been born seven children, namely: Claude, Roy, Carl, Gladys, Glen, Ralph and Howard, all deceased except Carl and Howard. Carl was born September 16, 1884, married Dora Daniels, the daughter of Harrison Daniels, and they have a daughter, Bernadine. He lives in Waterloo and follows the trade of a carpenter. Howard Dilgard, born July 10, 1898, is a student in the public schools of Waterloo.

Mr. Dilgard is an able, educated, well read and progressive gentleman, a fine type of a self-made man who has confidence in the people and is ready at all times to do his full part in the advancement of the public welfare. He is not lacking in the qualities of sociability and those traits of character which win friends for a man, and in the community where he has spent so many of his active years, he enjoys a notable measure of popularity.

JAMES PURVIS McCAGUE.

Fealty to facts in the analyzation of a citizen of the type of James Purvis McCague is all that that is required to make a good biographical sketch interesting to those who have at heart the good name of the community, because it is the honorable reputation of the man of standing, more than any other consideration, that gives character and stability to the body politic and makes the true worth of a county or state revered and respected. In the broad light which things of good report ever invite, the name and character of the gentleman whose name introduces this sketch stand revealed and secure, though with modest demeanor, with no ambition to distinguish himself in public position or as a leader of men, his career has been signally honorable and it may be studied with profit by the youth entering upon life's work, for it shows that the man who persists along right lines of endeavor will eventually accomplish what he sets out to do despite seemingly insurmountable obstacles.

James P. McCague was born in Holmes county, Ohio, on July 12, 1846, and is a son of Samuel Cochran McCague and Eliza Jane (Barfoot) McCague. Samuel C. McCague was a son of James and Elizabeth McCague, the former of whom was a native of the north of Ireland, though of Scotch-Irish descent, his ancestors having located in the Emerald Isle on account of the religious liberty which they enjoyed there and which was denied them in their native land. His wife, Eliza Jane Barfoot, was a daughter of Andrew Barfoot, who with his wife came from Scotland, her eldest brother having been born on the ocean en route to America. In 1848 Samuel C. McCague brought his wife and child to DeKalb county, Indiana, locating on the I. N. Cox farm one and one-half miles south and a little west of Ashley. After living there two years he sold this place and bought eighty acres of land one mile west of Sedan, where his death occurred in 1852, at which time the subject of this sketch was but six years old, and the only child. The subject's mother than engaged in teaching school, which she followed until 1855, when she became the wife of Aaron B. Smith, to which union was born a son, Sanford S., who died May 24, 1913. The mother's married life continued until 1868 when, at the death of her husband, she came to Waterloo and made that her home for some time.

The subject of this sketch secured his education in the district schools, but in 1861, at the outbreak of the war of the Rebellion, his patriotic fervor was aroused and though but fifteen years old he tried to enlist to fight for the Union, but was rejected on account of his youth. He then went to Iowa and obtained employment on farms in Winnesheik county. While in that state he attended school at Decorah, and there became acquainted with two daughters of John Brown, the famous anti-slavery agitator of Osawatomie. At the time of the New Ulm massacre by the Indians in 1862, he joined an independent military company and went to the assistance of the settlers and was present at the capture of six hundred Sioux Indians, who were sent to Davenport. While on a skirmish Mr. McCague was captured and was carried to a gorge, but while the guard was sleeping he loosened himself. In so doing he disturbed a dog which he killed with the guard's knife and he then made his escape. In 1863 Mr. McCague tried to enlist as a recruit in the Twelfth Iowa Regiment Volunteer Infantry, but was again rejected because of his boyish appearance. He then returned to Winnesheik county and attended school until the spring of 1864 when he enlisted in Company F, Forty-sixth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry, a one-hundred-day regiment, with which he served his term, participating in the battles of Tupella and Guntown and being mustered out in August, 1864. After receiving his discharge from the army Mr. McCague returned to his old home near Ashley, DeKalb county, Indiana, and during the first winter here he attended school and then again applied himself to farm work; later coming to Waterloo and here beginning his association with machinery, which has characterized the greater part of his life since. In the spring of 1865 he went to Kendallville and attempted to enlist in the army, but having gone first to tell his mother of his intentions he was a day too late, the orders having been issued to enlist no more men. At Waterloo Mr. McCague obtained employment in a planing mill where he finally became engineer and afterwards ran engines at various mills. He was married in 1871 and immediately afterwards bought a saw mill and stave factory where he manufactured staves for oil barrels. When timber got scarce he sold his stave machinery, but continued to operate the saw mill, which, however, was burned in 1890. He then became a practical machinist, bought tools and started a machine shop in Waterloo, north of where the town hall is now located, conducting this shop until 1901. In 1900 he was so unfortunate as to lose an eye by its being pierced with a piece of steel, while he was working on a boiler. In 1901 Mr. McCague invested eight hundred dollars in stock in a new concern which was organized to manufacture corn huskers and he then turned his shop and machinery over to the new concern and became machine shop foreman for two years. In 1903, his ability as a machinist and engineer having become widely known, Mr. McCague was called upon to take charge of the machinery in the electric light and water plant of Waterloo, and in 1904 he was given full charge of the plant as superintendent and has held that position until the present time. Fully qualified by training and experience for this important position Mr. McCague has discharged his duties with promptness and with painstaking care and enjoys the confidence and regard of all who are familiar with his work. In 1881 he was gone for a short time to Des Moines, Iowa, as foreman of a band saw mill, and also for a short time ran a steamboat on the Des Moines river. He afterward spent a year at Evansville, keeping saws in a saw mill in good shape, as he was an expert in that particular line of work and received a good salary for his labors.

In 1871 Mr. McCague married Nancy A. Bowman, the daughter of James and Jane (Bort) Bowman, who are represented elsewhere in this work and to this union have been born seven children, namely: Charles A., an engineer on the Lake Shore railroad, and who lives at Elkhart, married Lillian Phillips, and they have one son, James P.; Nellie A. died at the age of sixteen years; Edward Purvis married Rilla Newcomer, to which union was born a daughter, Irene, and he died at the age of twenty-five years; Blanche C. is the wife of Emmett E. Cox, of Waterloo; Eston B., who lives two mi[illegible] west of Butler on a farm, is a machinist by trade, and he married Clara Hanes; Eugene J., who married Dessie Greenwood, died in 1907 at the age of twenty-seven years; Minnie I. died at the age of twelve years.

Fraternally, Mr. McCague is a member of the Free and Accepted Masons, having passed through all the chairs and serving as worshipful master of his lodge. He also belongs to the Grand Army of the Republic and here enjoys the association with other veterans of the late war. He has taken a deep interest in local affairs and has served four terms as a member of the town board. In 1872 Mr. McCague built a fine home in the northeast part of Waterloo, where, on a large lot, which has been beautified in every respect with large beds of flowers and fancy shrubbery, he has erected a beautiful home heated by furnace, lighted by electricity and with water throughout the house, his home as regards beauty and convenience comparing favorably with any home in Waterloo. Mrs. McCague is passionately fond of flowers and spends much of her time in the care of them, in which she has met with much success. Mr. McCague is probably as versatile in his mechanical ability as any man in this locality, being not only an expert electrician, but a good all-around machinist, an expert plumber and an experienced saw man, besides which he learned the trade of steam engineer. He is a close student of practical mechanics and is a deep reader on a wide variety of subjects, being able to converse intelligently on many themes which ordinarily do not interest the average man. He has passed through a varied and strenuous career in many respects, being able to recite some very interesting experiences and narrow escapes, but is entirely modest and unassuming, caring nothing for praise or public applause, and he possesses to an eminent degree those qualities of character which beget friendship, and in this locality where he has resided for many years he has earned the high regard of all who know him.

U2.6.11. CHRISTIAN NEWCOMER, JR.

The gentleman whose name forms the caption of this biographical review has long enjoyed distinctive precedence as one of DeKalb county's most enterprising and successful agriculturists and business men, and besides enjoying the reputation of one of the county's representative men of affairs, he has at the same time won a reputation for honesty and square dealing in all the relations of life.

Christian Newcomer, Jr., was born on June 8, 1847, in Columbiana county, Ohio, and is the son of Christian, Sr., and Mary (Wolfe) Newcomer, the father having been a native of Pennsylvania. To these parents were born nine children, four sons and five daughters, of which the subject of this sketch was the last born. In the spring of 1849 the family came to DeKalb county, Indiana, locating on a tract of land in Franklin township, on which not a stick had been cut, and where it was necessary to clear a spot on which to build a small cabin. Here Christian Newcomer, Sr., acquired eighty acres of land and on this tract the family made a permanent home, the parents residing there until their death, which occurred, the father in 1870, when seventy-seven years old, and the mother on August 6, 1892, in her eighty-fifth year. The subject of this sketch spent his youthful years under the parental roof assisting his father in the work of the farm, and in young manhood he and his brother Joseph rented a farm which they operated together about three years, at the end of which time the subject left home and for a while worked out. Eventually Mr. Newcomer bought a tract of forty acres of land in the southwestern part of the township, for which he paid thirty-one dollars and a quarter per acre. He was wisely economical in his earlier days and saved sufficient money with which to make a first payment on this land, going into debt for the balance. By energetic effort and wise judgment he was prospered in his operation of this land and was able to add to it from time to time until he is now the owner of ninety-six acres of as good land as can be found in the township. To the management of this farm he devoted his attention until November 6, 1908, when he moved to Waterloo and bought the interest of his father-in-law, Robert W. Crooks, in a furniture store, his partner being the subject's son, D. E. Newcomer. He is devoting his entire attention to this enterprise and is enjoying a large and profitable patronage throughout the community. The store is well stocked with a large and complete line of furniture and is numbered among the substantial concerns of the kind in this section of the county.

In April, 1874, Christian Newcomer was married to Martha Crooks, the daughter of Robert W. and Mary Ann (Burdick) Crooks, and to this union have been born four children, two boys and two girls, namely: Wilbur R., born January 17, 1875, received a good common and high school education and then entered the Tri-State Normal School at Angola, Indiana, afterwards attending the Indiana Dental College, and is now engaged in the practice of dentistry at Waterloo. He served eight years as town clerk of Waterloo, making a splendid record in that office. He married Pearl Brandenberry, the daughter of Cyrus and Dora (Hall) Brandenberry, and they have a daughter, Virginia; Delbert Eugene Newcomer, born in 1876, is his father's partner in the furniture business. He married Annie Leger, and they have one daughter, Iliff; Nellie, the wife of Daniel Kimmel, a farmer one mile west of Waterloo, and they have a son, Wilbur J.; Vera, who remains at home with her parents, is attending the Waterloo high school. Mr. Newcomer possesses business ability of a high order and the continued growth in public favor of the business with which he is identified is largely due to his keen interest and correct business methods. He is careful and methodical, somewhat conservative in his views and not inclined to be carried away by visionary schemes. In addition to his business interests, which he makes paramount to every other consideration, Mr. Newcomer has always exerted his influence in the promotion of the material prosperity of his community and endeavored to discharge his duties as a citizen with the good of his fellow men at heart. Personally, he possesses to an eminent degree those qualities which win friendship and he enjoys a wide acquaintance and marked popularity in this community.

board the first year and president during the last year. Fraternally he belongs to the Free and Accepted Masons and he and his wife are members of the Order of the Eastern Star. In 1893 Mr. Gruhlke started the publication of a monthly magazine called the American Archeologist, which attained a wide circulation among the scientists and archeologists. However, after he went into the manufacturing business his interests demanded his time to such an extent that he was compelled to give up the publication of the magazine, which he sold to Professor Warren K. Moorhead, of Andover College, the man who had charge of the government exhibit at the Columbian World's Fair at Chicago, and one of the best posted men in his line in the country. The magazine was afterwards merged with Popular Science, published in New York city. Mr. Gruhlke possesses business ability of a high order, as is emphasized by his business enterprises, and among his associates his advice and judgment are valued highly. Personally he is a man of fine qualities of character, genial and unassuming, and he has won a host of warm personal friends in this community, where he has spent so many of his active years.

In 1913 he reorganized the Waterloo Cigar Company, taking in his former foreman, Frank A. Stevens, as a partner, and they are now engaged in the manufacture of cigars and cigar bunch making machines.

ROBERT W. CROOKS.

The record of Mr. Crooks is that of a man who by his own unaided efforts worked his way from a modest beginning to a position of comparative affluence and influence in the business world. His life has been one of unceasing industry and perseverance and the honorable methods which he followed while actively engaged in business won for him the unbounded confidence of his fellow citizens of Waterloo.

Robert W. Crooks was born on December 9, 1830, in Trumbull county, Ohio, and is the son of William and Jane (Norris) Crooks. William Crooks was born probably in Scotland and his parents lived in Glasgow. He came to this country in childhood and was reared to manhood probably in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, where he married Jane Norris. Her father, James Norris, was a native of Ireland. William and Jane Crooks moved to Trumbull county, Ohio, being the first family to locate in what afterwards became the county seat. To them were born eleven children, of whom five became residents of DeKalb county, Indiana, two of them, William and Matthew, coming here in April, 1836, and locating on the St. Joe river, three miles below Newville. They had come by way of Defiance, Ohio, with a brother-in-law, Mr. Hull and several other families, and for about fourteen miles of the distance they had to literally cut their way through the woods. They entered land first three miles below Newville. In September, 1830, their mother came here with two other sons, Robert M. and Thomas. The latter was married to Eliza Davis. A year and a half later the widow and her two sons just named returned to Ohio, locating about ten miles west of Cleveland. Robert M., at the early age of nine years, went on the lake and for about thirteen years he traveled about a great deal, laboring in various capacities on the lake and canal, and then in 1859 came to DeKalb county and made his permanent home here. He bought a farm on Cedar creek, one and one-half miles south of Waterloo, where he lived until about 1896, when he moved into the town of Waterloo, where he has since made his home. He owned at one time one hundred and sixty acres of land, but sold forty acres of that, which has since been bought by his son. In the fall of 1894 Mr. Crooks and John Lightner engaged in the furniture business in Waterloo. About a year later Mr. Lightner sold his interest to Mr. Crooks and went to California, Mr. Crooks continuing the business alone until 1900, when his grandson, D. E. Newcomer, came into the business as a partner. In March, 1903, the store was burned, but a new building was immediately erected and business resumed. In 1900 Mr. Crooks sold his remaining interest in the business to his son-in-law, Christian Newcomer, and finally retired from business, residing now at his comfortable home at Auburn, where he enjoys the quiet and rest which his strenuous years of activity so richly entitle him to.

In 1852 Robert M. Crooks married Mary A. Burdick, who was born in Onondaga county, New York, the daughter of Samuel and Nancy (Spencer) Burdick. They moved to Cuyahoga county, Ohio, about 1833, where Mary A. Burdick lived until her marriage. Her mother died at Waterloo and was taken back by Mr. Crooks and buried at her former Ohio home. Thirteen children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Crooks, namely: Martha, the wife of Christian Newcomer, of Waterloo; Mamie, the wife of Franklin B. Fretz, well known citizen of Auburn, but finally moved to Rochester, where she died; Hattie is the wife of George Crowell, of Wilmington township, this county; Mary Rebecca is the wife of Philip Seiberts, of Auburn; Lucy is the wife of John Carper, who lives a half mile east of Waterloo; Eudora is the wife of Isaac McDaniel and lives in Wilmington township, this county; Laura Belle is the wife of Henry Gingerich, of Waterloo; Robert Wilson, who is engaged in the restaurant business at Akron, Ohio, married Annie Houshalter; Frederick, who lives on a farm about three miles south of Garrett, this county, married Dora Stafford, and they have three children, two boys and a girl; Victor, who lives on a part of his father's farm and owns forty acres on the south edge of Grant township, married Henrietta Haynes and they have four children, two boys and two girls; Delbert, who is on a part of his father's farm south of Waterloo, married Maude Soules and they have two sons; James Burdick is a railroad man and lives in Waterloo; he married Blanche Morgan and they have two sons; Clyde died at the age of thirteen years. The mother of these children died in 1864, and in 1866 Mr. Crooks married Mrs. Queen C. (Atkinson) Crooks, the widow of the subject's deceased brother, William Crooks. She died in September, 1900, and on June 8, 1902, Mr. Crooks married Mrs. Ellen (Hammond) Denison, who was born in Ohio, and came here in infancy with her parents, Daniel and Sophia (Wolfe) Hammond. They came from Columbiana county, Ohio, settling in Franklin township, this county, but later moved to Kosciusko county, Indiana, where they lived until the father's death, and the mother spent her last years with her daughter, Mrs. Crooks. Mrs. Crooks was but a child of six years when her father died and the mother being left with a large family of small children, she was reared by strangers in Kosciusko county. In 1867 she became the wife of George Washington Frick, of Grant township, this county, who was born in Stark county, Ohio, on April 25, 1837, the son of George and Elizabeth (Harold) Frick. When he was about eight years old the family settled about two miles east of Waterloo, this county, where the father had entered a tract of government land and there they made their permanent home. George Washington Frick was one of seven children and lived on the home place until his marriage in 1867. At that time he owned forty acres of land, which he traded in on an eighty-acre tract, giving five hundred dollars cash to balance the trade and later bought twenty-two and one-half acres more. Mr. and Mrs. Frick were the parents of five children, namely: Rosa Jane, born on April 19, 1868, is the wife of Riley Moore and lives on a farm in Franklin township, this county; Charles Herbert, born September 24, 1869, lives on the home place two miles southeast of Waterloo; Lucy Bell became the wife of Joseph Morr, of Garrett, this county; Adella May, born July 6, 1875, is the wife of William Powell, and lives in Wilmington township, near Butler; Earl W. lives on the home place. George Washington Frick died on April 12, 1891, in the fifty-fourth year of his age. He was an industrious man of regular and steady habits and enjoyed to a notable deler, Inc., of St. Joe, assumes leadership of the Riverdale area and George Dilley, farmer of Smithfield township, serves the Ashley area.

SOYBEANS, CORN AND RYE FUTURES WEAK TODAY

CHICAGO (UPI) — Soybeans, corn and rye closed weak, wheat heavy and oats easy to weak today on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans were down ¾ to 7⅞; corn down ¼ to ½; rye down ⅜ to ⅝; wheat down 1⅜ to 1⅝; and oats down ⅛ to ¼.

Soybean prices opened higher but soon gave way to lower prices.

Corn trade was easier but the decline did not get far as there was considerable buying of corn by way of closing spread.

Rye was easier with wheat.

The game of bowling, a popular sport in England and Canada, was once banned by English monarchs, who felt it distracted able bodied men from the practice of archery, according to the National Geographic Magazine.

U4.5.2.

JAMES K. NEWCOMER, the present enterprising editor and proprietor of the Champaign Democrat, was born in Fayette Co., Penn., Aug. 10, 1833, and, in 183[illegible], his parents moved to Ohio, locating in Holmes Co., where they remained until the spring of 1844, when they removed to the western part of Lucas, now Fulton, Co., Ohio, and there James K. aided in clearing up a farm, where the present county seat, Wauseon, was afterward located. With only such advantages as a primitive common school afforded, young Newcomer, at the age of 18, apprenticed himself to the printing business in the office of the Fulton Democrat, then published at Delta, Ohio; he subsequently published the Delta Independent, and, in 1857, was elected Recorder of Fulton Co. by a majority of seventeen, while the opposition had a majority on their State ticket of about three hundred. After the expiration of his official term, he purchased the Ottawa Democrat, of Port Clinton, Ohio, which he conducted until the fall of 1861, when he returned to Fulton Co. and engaged in the dry-goods trade at Wauseon, in the meantime joining his father in making an addition to that town. In 1863, he was nominated by the Democratic State Convention for the office of Comptroller of the Treasury, but, with the balance of the ticket, except Hon. William Allen for Governor, was defeated; in 1864, he was appointed by Gov. Allen a Trustee of the Girls' Industrial Home. In 1867, Mr. Newcomer was a candidate for a seat in the State Legislature, but was unsuccessful at the election; he was one of the Clerks of the Ohio Senate in the sessions of 1868 and 1869, and, at a special election to fill a vacancy in the Senate of that legislative term, was nominated for State Senator in the Toledo District. In the summer of 1869, Mr. Newcomer purchased the Constitution, at Elyria, Ohio, which he published until October, 1870, when he bought the Democratic Mirror, of Marion, Ohio, and built up a good business, and made it a popular paper; he continued the publication of that paper until the fall of 1878, and, the following spring, came to Urbana and purchased the office of the Democratic sheet of this city, and is now engaged in publishing the Champaign Democrat. He was married in 1858; his wife died in 1864, leaving two daughters, and, in 1871, he was again married, of which union two children have been born, one of whom is living. On reaching his majority, Mr. Newcomer was made a Mason, and has ever since been an ardent member of that order; politically, he is widely known as one of the most uncompromising Democrats in Ohio, and has always been bitterly opposed to every law or measure which he believed to be contrary to the Constitution and the spirit of Democracy, and therefore baneful to the interests and welfare of the nation. In the time of political excitements, he will always be found wherever the fight is the hottest and his services are most needed; he is a man of stability of character and well-formed views on most subjects; an agreeable and pleasant companion, who has won many stanch friends among the citizens of "Old Champaign" since locating in Urbana.

U44-11 Joseph b. 1844, and U44-12 Martha J. b. 1849. The entire family is listed in the 1850 census for Fayette County, German Twp.

He was a Democrat, and served as County Commissioner from 1871 to 1874. In 1897, the court appointed him Supervisor, to settle some local trouble. David belonged to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

On Sept. 13, 1855, U44-2 David married Martha L. Hager, daughter of Peter. Martha died March 3, 1857. They had no children. David was living in 1897.

U45 JOHN NEWCOMER

John was born in York County, PA April 17, 1807 and married Naomi Debolt on May 12, 1831. In 1837, they moved to a farm in Holmes County, Ohio. In 1844, they moved to the forest land of Fulton County then part of Lucas County, Ohio. Here they developed a farm and later moved into Wauseon.

The children of U45 John and Naomi were U45-1 Solomon, U45-2 James K., U45-3 Mary, U45-4 George D., U45-5 Hester and U45-6 Uriah. Hester was the first child born within the town of Wasueon. See Ref. 7.

W. H. NEWCOMER U7.7.1.

For thirty-three years W. H. Newcomer now deceased was a successful farmer in York county. He was born in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, on the 30th of July, 1846, a son of Daniel and Abigail (Leckrone) Newcomer. His parents were both natives of Pennsylvania where they spent their lives. Mr. Newcomer was a successful farmer and followed that occupation until his death in 1869. His widow survived him for several years. Seven children were born to this union, five sons and two daughters. W. H. Newcomer, the subject of this review, is the only member of the family residing in the west.

W. H. Newcomer was reared on a farm in his native county and received his education there. He continued to farm in this county until 1875, at which time he removed to Illinois and settled in Knox county. For two years he farmed there successfully, at the termination of which time he located in Henry county, that state. In 1879 he came to Nebraska and settled in York county. He purchased a farm in Thayer township and there made his home until 1900. The farm had no improvements and he made his home in a sod house for a number of years. He later built a fine residence and outbuildings. In the cultivation of the land, which had but eighty acres under cultivation at the time he purchased it, he was gratifyingly successful. In 1900 Mr. Newcomer removed to York and purchased a nice home at 813 Elmer avenue. Here he lived practically retired until his death but still maintained an interest in his land which consisted of six hundred and forty acres in York county and one hundred and sixty acres in Lincoln county, to which he would make frequent visits. For the twelve years that Mr. Newcomer resided in York he made many and fast friends and at his loss a feeling of widespread bereavement swept the community.

In 1868 in Pennsylvania occurred the marriage of Mr. Newcomer and Miss Catherine Henderson, a daughter of Stewart and Elizabeth A. Henderson, both natives of Pennsylvania. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson later removed to Illinois where the father died. His widow survived him a number of years. Five children were born to that union, three of whom are living. Mrs. Newcomer was the second in order of birth. To the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer eight children have been born, six of whom are living, namely: Mary, the wife of Fred Conant, a retired farmer of York; Dora, who is the widow of William Myers, and resides in Lincoln; William H., who is residing on the old homestead in York county; Cora, the wife of George Werner, who resides in Laporte, Indiana; Carrie, who is the wife of Harry Johns, a farmer in York county; and Blanche, who is the wife of Wallace Lloyd who is engaged in farming in York county. The Newcomer family were reared in the faith of the Lutheran church and Mrs. Newcomer is still active in the affairs of that organization.

Throughout his entire life Mr. Newcomer gave his support to the republican party which found in him a stalwart advocate. Although he devoted the greater part of his time to his farming interests he was always well informed on the questions and issues of the day. Fraternally he was a Mason and an exemplary member of the order. Mrs. Newcomer is still living and is residing in the home at York, a highly respected citizen. She is now in possession of a half section of land from which she derives a substantial income.
